

Mission Patch Contest

Every space mission needs its own unique patch design and Richard's was no different. But coming up with a design that captured the excitement and wonder of space along with Richard's quirky personality was never going to be easy. So call in the kids from the Challenger Centre to get the job done.